PRESS RELEASE

Paranoid are 21st Century sculptural console made by Italian artisans in Radica marble stone. It is part of the collectible design language Paranoid that has been developed by the Edizione Limitata's art research team in Milan. Designed as a composition of intersections of stone slats, the results is an harmonic presence in the interior. The table is conceived as an elegant marble piece, it opposes the idea of noisy furniture elements. This language is a series of balances, a series of small architectures, a rigorous set of lines that creates rational and extremely simple geometries.

Images shows a V1 version in Verde Guatemala Marble, a V2 version in Fior di Bosco Marble, a V3 version in Radica Marble
