The Veiled

design Olga Bielawska

2016

The Veiled is a collection of tables made of marble with a graphical pattern inspired by an ancient statue. It experiments with the dichotomy between a silk and soft looking surface for a hard material like marble. The effect of light and dark-coloured marble in stripes is both graphic and illusional. The pattern catches your eye and invites you to touch. It combines a modern technique and aesthetic with the traditional way of making inlays.
